<sup>1</sup> The 'traditional' university-based PGCE routes. The PGCE is validated by the HEI provider. The number of placements is allocated by the Department for Education annually.

<sup>2</sup> School-based ITT. Some are salaried, others unsalaried, depending on the provider. Some offer PGCE or PGDE, which is validated by the SCITT itself or an HEI in partnership.

<sup>3</sup> A very small number of TF trainees have trained first in another subject and then moved over to Classics teaching, but Teach First does not offer a full Classics option.

<sup>5</sup> There is considerable variation in which schools do and which schools do not offer ITT on the SCITT model from year to year.
